Hot

Staring, frying, baking, stewing hot! Folks leaving on every train to get to some place where it's still hotter but where they won't feel it so much because there will be new faces and new surroundings.

Such is the situation. An idea is out of the question—it would be ridiculed before it left its starting point. And yet, with all that, things have not been entirely dead during the past week. There have been quite a few affairs that were altogether enjoyable, and there is still something to fill up with. In fact there were times last winter when the outlook was more dreary than at present. After all, the mind is its own place, and it may be that we will manage to have quite a bit of fun here this summer in spite of the natural discouragements with which we have to contend.

FOR MISS SHEFFIELD.

Perhaps the most elaborate affair of the week was the dance given Tuesday night at the Country club by Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph C. Kirchner in honor of their hostess, Miss Sarah Sheffield, of American, Georgia, who is a niece of Mrs. Kirchner. The club was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the mantle being especially pretty with an artistic arrangement of pink roses and potted plants. The refreshments were served on the porch of the clubhouse.

Besides the guest of honor there were present Miss Gladys Mandell, Miss Louise Thorne, Miss Gertrude Walker, Miss Dottie McCallahan, Miss Aline Stern, Miss Eugenia Kehler, Miss Lauren Asellin, Miss Hilda Grunfeld, Miss Bernice Hesselstein, Miss Kathleen Lott, Miss Julia Kehler, Miss Maybelle Lovelace, Miss Jennie Tierney, Miss Bertie Sims, Miss Hazel Mayo, Miss Florence Grunfeld, Miss Katherine McMillen, Miss Eleanor Vaughn, Miss Lorna Lester, Miss Eleanor Greenwood, Miss Virginia Carr, Miss Katherine Chaves, Miss Lorraine Ryan, Miss Shirley Van Wakenhausen, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Sheffield, Miss Myrl Hope, Mrs. J. P. Muller, Messrs. Arthur Sisk, Arthur Praeger, Emory Davis, Dr. W. R. Lovelace, George Walker, Grover C. Devine, Ralph Kehler, Buzz Tierney, Will White, Ernest Landolt, Tom Egan, Will McMillen, Ray McCanna, P. G. Corbish Jr., Jerry Crossgrove, J. E. Goodell, Paul Butt, Bob Crews, Joe McCanna, Ormon Powell, Don P. Johnson, Arthur C. Ringland, Lloyd Sturges, Max Wood, G. G. Wood Jr., Sam Dickard, Charles Lemke, Bill Sewell, Gordon Gass, Will McClurken, Walter Parkhurst, Jack McDonough, Willard Hopewell and Robert Hopewell.

MR. NORDHAUS SURPRISED.

The fifteenth birthday anniversary of Mr. Max Nordhaus, which occurred last Friday, was made the occasion by Mrs. Nordhaus of one of the most delightful surprise parties ever given in Albuquerque.

The guests, fifty in number, were invited to the elegant Nordhaus home at Twelfth and Central for 7 o'clock, and their arrival was a genuine and complete surprise for Mr. Nordhaus. A beautiful feature of the evening was the singing of a song of birthday greeting by a children's chorus composed of Robert Nordhaus, Elizabeth Nordhaus, Baby Anna Maxine Nordhaus, Louise Clark, Jane Hanning, Jack Clark and Raymond Stamm Jr., who had been specially coached by Miss Elizabeth Wilber. An excellent musical program was rendered, Miss Maudie, of Las Vegas, on the cello, Mrs. John of Santa Fe, on the piano, and Prof. L. L. Tello, on the violin, contributing to a most artistic performance.

After the musical cards and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour.

Two Singers

The bird that mounts the soaring sky Above the sight of earth-bound men Sees stars alight beside the sun That have no place within our ken; His song, which has a joy beyond The hope of winning any sphere Save that he left, is lost to them; Only the bird himself can hear.

Your eyes are like the burnished stars In that wide Heaven where I pray; And like the burnished stars of Heaven, Are very, very far away! I may not rise, however I sing, On pinions broken since my birth— Dear, is there nothing that will bring Your Heaven nearer to my earth?

FOR THE BRIDE.

Miss Rhoda Swaine, teacher in the third ward Albuquerque school, who became the bride of Mr. Henry Davidson of Helen on Thursday was the honor guest at a pretty affair in the nature of a "handy shower" at the suburban home of Mrs. E. J. Strong, 1289 North Fifth street, on Tuesday evening.

A profusion of flowers throughout the house, with a pink and white color effect, and lantern illumination among the trees around the spacious grounds made a pretty setting for the guests, who, besides the bride and her fiancée were: Mrs. M. C. Swaine, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gentry, Miss Ada Maddox, Miss Annie Hubbard, Miss Margaret L. Savage, Miss Meta Tway, Miss Ona Schupe, Miss Jennie Walsh, Miss Allen Keeler, Miss Alice Scriber, Miss Harriet Beck, Miss Myrtle Bliss, Miss Raabe, Miss Abbie Bliss, Mr. Walter Hunte, Mr. John Menard, Mr. Howard Livingston, Mr. George Raabe, Mr. Alfred Cudabae, Mr. Paul Menaul.

NEW CARD CLUB.

The "Kromtown Five Hundred club" was organized Wednesday evening at the home of Miss June Strook, 522 South Broadway. The following officers were elected: President, Miss June Strook; secretary and treasurer, Miss Evelyn Westerhausen. Progressive five hundred was played. Miss Stella Hackett was awarded the prize for high score and Mrs. W. E. Zeller received the consolation favor. The club will meet next week with Mrs. Will Rudolph.

HEARCKES ENTERTAIN.

Judge and Mrs. W. C. Hearckes entertained Wednesday evening at what proved to be one of the most delightful affairs of the week. The Hearckes home on West Copper avenue was beautifully decorated for the occasion, carnations forming an especially effective feature of the decorative scheme. Cards were played, the first prize, a handsome cut glass vase, being won by Mrs. William G. McMeans. Miss Abbie Hearckes, the talented daughter of the host and hostess, who for several months past has been studying dancing under one of the greatest teachers of the country, contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the guests by rendering some of the latest dances in a manner that charmed all present.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

Musicians of Albuquerque will look with interest for news of the big musical festival which is to be held in Los Angeles this week in connection with the biennial convention of the federated music clubs of the country. Mrs. S. B. Miller, Mrs. George H. Wheeler will attend the convention as representatives of the Fortnightly club, of this city, while Mrs. E. L. Bradford will represent New Mexico in the federation. In connection with the biennial convention of American Music with Charles Wakefield Cadman, who is widely known as a composer, as chairman. Associated with Mr. Cadman are many representative musicians: Carl Busch, George W. Chadwick, Arthur Farwell, Arthur Foote, Mrs. Elizabeth Cartwright, Henry K. Hadley, Charles H. Farnsworth, Leonard Liebling, Tall Esen Morgan, Oscar Sonneck and Roland Paul.

Among the distinguished composers whose works will be heard during the festival are: David Stanes Smith, Arthur Farwell, Adolph M. Forster, Mabel W. Daniels, Arthur Foote, Ernest R. Kroemer, Arne Oldberg, who will conduct his prize-winning Symphony No. 2, C Minor, George W. Chadwick, Carl Busch and Edgar Sullivan Kelley.

FOURKELLE-PROCTOR.

A pretty home wedding was that of Miss Mary Fourkelle and Mr. Chester A. Proctor, which was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fourkelle, 401 South Broadway. Only the families and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom were present.

The bride was attired in white crepe de chine trimmed with pink and carried a bouquet of pink roses. George Pollockman acted as best man and Rev. Hugh A. Cooper, of Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Proctor left on a honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will make their permanent home in this city.

MRS. COOPER SURPRISED.

A charming surprise was given Mrs. Hugh A. Cooper Thursday afternoon by the ladies of the Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Presbyterian church, who made their regular meeting at the church parlors an occasion to give Mrs. Cooper a handsome present of silver in commemoration of her twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

A brief speech of presentation was made by Mrs. C. E. Vaughn, a charter member of the society, and Mrs. Cooper responded in a most feeling manner. There was an unusually large attendance of the members of the organization. Refreshments were served.

FOR MISS HARRISON.

Mrs. Bert Skinner was hostess at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. E. Galt, 409 West Tjerna avenue, Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Edith Harrison, of Boulder, Colo. From seventy-five to a hundred guests called between the hours of three and six.

Receiving with Mrs. Skinner was her mother, Mrs. Galt, and Miss Harrison. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Henry G. Coors Jr., Miss Jean Hubbs, Miss Hazel Mayo and Miss Eleanor Vaughn. The refreshments were most beautiful and beautiful with roses, ferns and summer flowers.

MISS MORRIS ENTERTAINS.

Miss Sadie Morris was a charming hostess Friday evening when she entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Galt, 409 West Tjerna avenue, in honor of Miss Laura Cartwright, of Gallup, who is here on a visit. The Morris home was prettily decorated in pink and white. The lawn, where the refreshments were served, was thoroughly Japanese, lanterns and parasols being effectively combined.

The guests, besides Miss Cartwright, were Miss Myrl Hope, Miss Jennie Tierney, Miss Bernice Hesselstein, Miss Eleanor Vaughn, Miss Aline Stern, Miss Elizabeth Sims, Messrs. Gordon Gass, Paul Butt, William Arnot, Louis Hesselstein, William Provost, Harry Boyd of Gallup, Arthur Sisk and Ralph Kehler.

ORCHESTRA ENTERTAINED.

The members of the Valek-Wilson orchestra were delightfully entertained last Monday by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Becker at the Becker ranch north of the city. Dancing, together with a few splendid musical selections, formed the chief feature of the occasion.

When the refreshments were served a complete surprise was furnished by the presentation of a birthday cake ornamented with seventeen candles, in commemoration of the seventeenth birthday of Arthur Becker, a member of the orchestra. The fact that the affair was to be in the nature of a birthday party had been kept a secret from the guests and formed one of the most pleasing features of the entertainment.

Besides the members of the orchestra there were a few invited guests.

FOR MISS CARTWRIGHT.

An enjoyable event of the past week was the reception last evening given by Dr. Margaret Cartwright in honor of her daughter, Miss Laura Cartwright, who is soon to leave for Chicago to enter Northwestern university. The decorations were most artistic. The dance of the day when the society is at a standstill and sparingly sends in special notes.

Perhaps the society party would best take a moving picture exhibit of some former Albuquerqueans who have transplanted to Hollywood, one of the most beautiful spots in the environment of Los Angeles I found the following:

C. C. Hall who was familiarly known to the older residents of Albuquerque as one of the banks, is now a prosperous merchant and as young looking as he used to be. Prof. John H. Crum, who, while connected with the university entertained many an Albuquerque audience by his interesting readings, is in the real estate business using his persuasive arguments in the effort to buy and sell.

Frank W. Strong is also bartering in land. When I called at his big home he was trying to drive home a bargain, so I missed him, though he may not have missed the bargain.

E. L. Washburn and family have a beautiful home in the heart of Hollywood and present every appearance of happiness and health. Their large family are also surrounded by all that heart need in the way of a home.

different cities to regulate the "hit-men" out of business; the cost of living which all of us feel; questions of city ownership of businesses; these and many other like subjects are common to more and more of our country. When we read in the papers of the splendid way in which President Wilson is grasping his problems of diplomacy we breathe a sigh of relief to think he is not a mere "politician" man who has studied up on the business of being president. There are hosts of men doing the same thing every day in their particular lines and then when they satisfied with the study they put it into print. Did you ever stop to think that it is the business of every individual to be posted on these subjects? And the place to get this material is at the Public Library.

The June number of the American City contains a most readable article on the "Hit Men" in which are pointed out the advantages and disadvantages of the street railway given; and question of regulation discussed. Clyde L. King the author of the article on "The Jitney" has a book on the "Lower Cost of Living in Cities." The book analyzes the present day living costs of the city dweller in this country in this country—the costs for such every-day matters as food, rent, health, education, municipal utilities and governmental services—discusses the elements in these living costs and notes what has been done in America, German or English cities to minimize these costs. From such a background, the author weaves the essentials to a constructive program for efficiency in American cities—and efficiency of a practical, democratic type that will redound to the improvement of the economic interests and social welfare of fifty million American citizens.

Crime is a great social fact. Why does it persist, what is the cause? These are the queries Dr. Henderson answers for the general reader in his book "The Cause and Cure of Crime." The book is written from a real knowledge of criminals, of prisons, and legal procedure. It is a book for the "Safeguards for the City Youth at Work and at Play" by Louise de Koven Bowen, who is president of the Juvenile Protective association and fully informed in regard to the matters of which she writes, many of which have come within the range of her observation or experience. The book gives a graphic description of the sordid and careless conditions under which thousands of young people habitually live and of the valiant effort of a small group of statesmen, city and county, to provide at least a minimum of protection.

LOYAL WOMEN.

The Loyal Women, an organization of the Broadway Christian church, were entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Dearing, on North Eighth street.

The guests indulged in sewing and fancy work during the afternoon and were entertained by number of musical selections by Mrs. Lovitt and Miss Horton. Refreshments were served.

VISITORS COMPLIMENTED.

In honor of Miss Lorraine Suydan of Los Angeles, a guest of the P. F. McCanna, who is returning to her home from Hollins Institute, Virginia, Miss Sarah Sheffield, of American, Georgia, also a Hollins student, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Kirchner and Miss Edith Harrison, of Boulder, Colo., the guest of Mrs. Bert Skinner, a dance was given at the Country club Thursday evening by a number of the men of the younger set.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Coors Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Skinner chaperoned the dance, and the guests, besides the three young ladies complimented, were Miss Shirley Von Wachenhausen, Miss Myrl Hope, Miss Lauren Asellin, Miss Julia Kehler, Miss Katherine Kehler, Miss Margaret McCanna, Miss Alberta Hawthorne, Miss Ruth Tompkins, Miss Dorothy, McMillen, Miss Katherine McMillen, Miss Jean Hubbs, Miss Carolyn Michael, Miss Helen Hesselstein, Messrs. FROM DR. HODGIN.

My friend Dr. C. E. Hodgin writes me a most interesting letter from Los Angeles. He says I may do what I like, and consequently I am doing the only logical thing and printing it. Here is what Dr. Hodgin has to say:

Dear Pandora: While you are in captivity coaxing stories from your captives I am sitting at a large table under the big trees, browsing in pastures, green, inhaling the fragrance of flowers and feeding on the fat of the fields.

So I thought I might lighten your labors a little by furnishing a "free" article for the "Hit Men" society is at a standstill and sparingly sends in special notes.

DINNER PARTY.

Mrs. W. S. Hopewell gave a dinner party last Saturday evening for her sons Robert and Willard, who have just returned from school in the east.

The guests included Miss Lorna Lester, Miss Eleanor Greenwood of Colorado Springs, Miss Rebecca Horner, Miss Anette Wehman, Baroness de Wardener, Miss Katherine McMillen, Miss Florence Grunfeld, Messrs. Floyd Lee, Lyman Putney, Ray McCanna, J. E. Herndon Jr.

MEMORIES.

We were a blithe and careless gang, Each with his own special knack; For one man wrote, another sang, Another sketched in white and black.

Of faith and hope we had no lack, But charity we needed sore; We were a lean and hungry pack In those Bohemian days of yore!

We talked a sort of artist's slang, And loquacious tongues would wag, And how the table tops would bang In loud rebuttal or attack! The food was not a bounteous snack; The wine was—carmine ink, we swore.

And yet, somehow, they had a knack In those Bohemian days of yore!

Gone are the times our laughter rang Through Louis Quarters' eating shack; Its windows now with placards hang—The place has closed and gone to rack.

And Phil and Elsie and Nell and Jack Are quailing at its door no more; Through love or fate they've lost The track To those Bohemian days of yore!

NOTES OF SOCIETY.

Mrs. Felix Lester, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Lorraine Suydan, their guest, Miss Eleanor Greenwood, of Colorado Springs, will leave today for the Metcalf ranch at Tesuque, where they will be the guests of Colonel and Mrs. W. P. Metcalf.

"Some men hope and some men fret,
Some have pride and some regret,
But the good or ill depends,
After all, on what you get."
—Mister Squeegie

There are people who can be satisfied with little if they know their neighbors have less.

This is a poor kind of philosophy.

It is not necessary to recommend any such doctrine to those who buy Diamond Squeegie Tread Tires.

They have a right to demand much, no matter how little their neighbors get out of other tires.

Unbeatable mileage economy, unusual freedom from trouble on the road, and unexcelled service under all conditions are some of the things the man who uses Diamond Squeegie Tread Tires has the right to expect.

And he gets them.
